

To fill in the masked entities in the sentence, we need to analyze the table and find the relevant information. The sentence is: "[ENT] of the [ENT] final [ENT] game were victory." The table is about the 1983 Miami Dolphins season. The entities to fill in are: - [ENT] (team): Miami Dolphins - [ENT] (final game): final game (presumably referring to the final game of the season) - [ENT] (game): game (presumably referring to the final game of the season)

The final game of the 1983 Miami Dolphins season was played on December 17, 1983, against the New York Jets. However, the table does not explicitly state the date of the final game, but it is implied that it was the last game of the season. Based on this information, we can fill in the sentence as follows: "The [ENT] of the [ENT] final [ENT] game were victory."

Since the table does not explicitly state the date of the final game, we can use the last game listed in the table, which is the game against the New York Jets on December 16, 1983. So the filled-in sentence is: "The [ENT] of the [ENT] final [ENT] game were victory." Filled-in sentence: The Miami Dolphins of the 1983 final game were victory.

However, since there is no clear information about the final game, we can also fill in the sentence as: "The [ENT] of the [ENT] final [ENT] game were victory." Filled-in sentence: The Miami Dolphins of the 1983 final game were victory.

However, the final game of the 1983 Miami Dolphins season was played on December 17, 1983, against the New York Jets.
