

Based on the table provided, which details the 1973 New York Jets season, we can see that the highest point total in a single game was 34 points, achieved in two games (Week 2 against the Baltimore Colts and Week 9 against the New England Patriots). Therefore, no game had a sum of points bigger than 80. Filled sentence: No game had a sum of points bigger than 80.