Based on the table provided, the sentence with filled in masked entities would be: "Hawthorn scored the least number of points of the day in their game against North Melbourne, 27 less than any other team."